Overview: This course discusses historical and contemporary topics related to socio-emotional development from infancy to late childhood, with an emphasis on the biological contributions to typical and atypical socio-emotional development. There will also be assigned historical and contemporary review and empirical articles drawn from scientific journals. These articles will be on reserve in the Mills Library. This class will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 10:30 to 11:20am. Please note that the instructor cannot return long distance telephone calls. Accordingly, please make use of email or available office hours.

Prerequisite: PSYCH 2C03, PSYCH 3GG3

Required Text: LaFreniere, P.J. (2000). Emotional Development: A Biosocial Perspective. Wadsworth.

Evaluation:

Evaluation will be based on: two short reaction papers to assigned articles (i.e., a 2-3 page critical and integrative review of two of the assigned articles as noted), an in-class mid-term examination, and a cumulative final exam. The format of the exams will be short answer and essay. The in-class exam will be administered during regular class time as noted. The final exam will be CUMULATIVE, and the date will be announced by the Registrar's Office.

Grading Scale:
