PSYCH3MA3 Neuroscience of Music Cognition

Instructor: Dr. Laurel Trainor  Psychology Building 309
LJT@mcmaster.ca  905-525-9140 x23007

Course TA: Pat Savage  savagepe@mcmaster.ca  905-525-9140 x21443

Location: BSB 121

Time: Mondays 8:30-9:20am; Wednesdays 8:30-10:20am

Office hours: By appointment

Course Objectives. In this course we will examine perceptual, cognitive, emotional, and developmental aspects of music from a neuroscience point of view. The roles of evolution, biology, innate factors, and experience in human musical activity and ability will be considered. The class will be run as a seminar, and students are expected to read the assigned papers before class and to participate in class discussions. Students will work in groups, do presentations in class, read primary source materials, and learn to think critically.

Summary

Academic Dishonesty Policy Reminder

Academic dishonesty consists of misrepresentation by deception or by other fraudulent means and can result in serious consequences, e.g., the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: "Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty"), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. For information on the various kinds of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, specifically Appendix 3, located at http://www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity.

The instructor reserves the right to adjust the final marks up or down, on an individual basis, in the light of special circumstances and/or the individual's overall performance in the course.

A note on dates and deadlines: The instructor and university reserve the right to modify elements of the course during the term. The university may change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances. If either type of modification becomes necessary, reasonable notice and communication with the students will be given with an explanation and the opportunity to comment on changes. It is the responsibility of the student to check their McMaster email regularly during the term and to note any changes.

A note on class attendance: Because much of this class is based on discussion and presentations, is very hard to do well unless you attend all classes.
