Course Instructor: Dr. Joe Kim
Teaching Assistant: Faria Sana
IntroPsych Course Coordinator: Deanna Minervini

Office Hours: By appointment

Class Meeting Time: Fridays, 11:30AM-2:30PM, PC 237

Course Description

What does it mean to be a scholarly instructor? How does research in pedagogy inform education practice? How do cognitive models help us understand how we effectively learn complex information? These are the types of issues we will explore in this course through theory, practice, and reflection. The theoretical elements are explored through journal readings and facilitated discussions. The practical elements of the course will also be explored through Workshops and Group Projects. The overall goal of this course is to bridge the two aspects of educational psychology – theory and practice –through discussions on how to test and implement theory in the classroom.

Missed Work

If you miss a class period, assignment or an exam due to illness, personal circumstances, or late registration, it is your responsibility to notify the instructor and to submit appropriate documentation (e.g. note from physician) to the appropriate Faculty/Program office.

Academic Integrity

As a student, you are expected to behave honestly and ethically in all of your academics. According to McMaster University's Academic Integrity Policy, you are engaging in academic dishonesty if you "knowingly act or fail to act in a way that result or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage" (Academic Integrity Policy, p. 6). This behaviour can result in serious consequences, such as a grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript that reads “Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty,” and/or suspension or expulsion from the university.

It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. The following are just three forms of academic dishonesty:

1. Plagiarism.
2. Improper collaboration.
3. Copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.
For more information on academic dishonesty and academic integrity, please read the Academic Integrity Policy: http://www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity

Evaluation breakdown:

Participation – 10%
Your active participation is integral to establishing a dynamic learning environment. For the 12 weeks of class, every 3 week period you will be assigned a grade out of 10 using the participation rubric. At the end of the semester, your top 3 of 4 period grades will be counted to calculate your final participation grade.

Note that for a given period, if you attend 3 out of 3 classes but make little or no contribution to discussion, you cannot receive a grade higher than 4 out of 10 for that period.

Journal Reading Discussion Facilitation – 20%

Tutorial Preview Project – 20%
- Presentation: 5%
- Written Case Study: 10%
- Written report: 5%

TED-Ed Talk – 20%
- Peer Review of Slides: 5%
- Final Slides: 15%
- This evaluation is based on the slides submitted one week prior to your TED-Ed talk.

Research Proposal – 30%
- Letter of intent: 5%
- Research Proposal Report: 25%
