Department of Psychology
Two 24-Months Limited-Term Assistant Professor Positions

1. Child Clinical Psychology
2. Research Methodology (Quantitative and Qualitative) and Measurement

The University of Windsor invites applications for two 24-months limited-term positions in the Department of Psychology in the areas of Child Clinical Psychology and Research Methodology (Quantitative and Qualitative) and Measurement. Both positions are at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing January 1, 2015. These positions are subject to final budgetary approval.

In addition to serving a large undergraduate population, the Psychology Department offers doctoral degrees in Clinical Psychology and in Applied Social Psychology. Our CPA- and APA-accredited Clinical Psychology Program offers specialized training in three areas: Adult Clinical, Child Clinical, and Clinical Neuropsychology. The Clinical Psychology (Child Track) program provides coursework in developmental psychopathology, and in child and adolescent assessment and intervention. For further details, visit our website at www.uwindsor.ca/psychology.

1. Child Clinical Psychology – Qualifications: The successful candidate will have a PhD completed by the date of appointment; a demonstrated track record of research publications, including peer reviewed publications (book reviews will not be considered) sufficient to gain Graduate Faculty status; a substantial record of research, or demonstrated capacity for developing a substantial research program in child clinical psychology; ability to teach graduate courses in child and adolescent assessment and intervention, as well as as well as other undergraduate and graduate developmental courses in the Department of Psychology; and a demonstrated ability and willingness to contribute to the administrative and operational activities of the Department of Psychology. Desirable Criteria: Preference will be given to candidates who have received a Ph.D. in clinical psychology from a CPA- or APA-accredited program with pre-doctoral or post-doctoral specialty training in child clinical psychology by the date of appointment; possess a strong commitment to the scientist/practitioner model; demonstrated ability to engage in clinical supervision; will be registered as a Psychologist in the Province of Ontario. If not registered, eligible candidates will be expected to begin the registration process within the first year of hire; and have experience in applying for external grant funding.

2. Research Methodology (Quantitative and Qualitative) - Qualifications: The successful candidate will have a PhD in an area of Psychology completed by the date of appointment; a demonstrated track record of research publications, including peer reviewed publications (book reviews will not be considered) sufficient to gain Graduate Faculty status; a substantial record of research, or demonstrated capacity for developing a substantial research program with the area of specialization open; demonstrated ability to teach undergraduate (quantitative) and graduate psychology research methods (quantitative and qualitative) and measurement; ability and willingness to supervise undergraduate and graduate student research; ability to provide research methods and qualitative analysis consultation to faculty and graduate students; a strong commitment to an applied psychology model; and a demonstrated ability and willingness to contribute to the administrative and operational activities of the Department of Psychology. Desirable Criteria: Ability to teach introductory statistics.

Applications will include: a letter of application, including a statement of citizenship/immigration status; a current and detailed curriculum vitae; a statement outlining research interests and potential for scholarly achievement; a teaching dossier or evidence of teaching effectiveness that might include sample course outlines or teaching evaluations; a statement of teaching philosophy and interests; samples of scholarly work; graduate transcripts, and three current letters of reference forwarded directly by the referees to the Chair.

The short-listed candidates may be invited to provide further information in support of their applications. To ensure full consideration, complete an online application (http://www.uwindsor.ca/facultypositions) by the deadline date of September 15, 2014. Applications may still be received after the deadline date. The acceptance of a late submission is at the discretion of the Appointments Committee. Questions and reference letters to be sent to:

Dr. Greg Chung-Yan, Head, Department of Psychology
University of Windsor, 401 Sunset Ave., Windsor, ON N9B 3P4
Phone: 519-253-3000, Ext. 2232, Email: gcy@uwindsor.ca

University of Windsor is a comprehensive research and teaching institution with more than 14,000 students.

The University of Windsor is a welcoming community that is committed to equity and supports diversity in its teaching, learning, and work environments. In pursuit of the University's Employment Equity Plan, members from the designated groups (Women, Aboriginal Peoples, Visible Minorities, Persons with Disabilities, and Members of Sexual Minorities) are encouraged to apply and to self-identify.

For accessibility related accommodation, please notify the Employment Coordinator (staff positions) or the Faculty Recruitment Coordinator (faculty-related positions). More general information on the University's accessibility policy can be found on the Office of Human Rights, Equity & Accessibility website. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

www.uwindsor.ca/facultypositions