Description:

The Kinesiology Research Awards are intended to encourage undergraduate students to develop and pursue their passion for research in the field of Kinesiology. Students develop skills and gain research experience working on a project under the supervision of a Kinesiology faculty member. These awards provide financial support and opportunities to work at the forefront of research in the Department of Kinesiology.

Eligibility:

To be eligible, you must:

- be a current full-time student in the Honours Kinesiology Program
- have a minimum GPA of 7.0 (B-)
- have a Kinesiology faculty member sponsor your application and supervise you for the term of the award
- have completed all the course requirements of at least the first year of study of your degree
- have been registered at the time of application in at least one of the two terms immediately before holding the award

You are not eligible if you:

- have completed all your degree requirements and are no longer registered in the Honours Kinesiology Program
- have started a program of graduate studies
- are currently holding a NSERC USRA

Duration of Awards:

The duration of the award is 14 to 16 weeks on a full-time basis during the Spring/Summer terms.

Application Procedures:

Students must submit an unofficial copy of their current transcript, a completed application form and supplementary application to the Undergraduate Studies, Academic Program Advisor via email to kinug@mcmaster.ca or in IWC 219C, by the issued deadline. As a commitment to accessibility, applicants may reach out to the Academic Program Advisor by email if they have any questions about the application process.

Selection Process, Notification of Results & Payment of Awards:

Applications will be reviewed by the Committee on implicit bias and equitable adjudication and selection will be based on the following criteria:

- Academic excellence
- Research potential
- Personal experience and/or objectives (provided from the Supplementary Application)

Results will be emailed directly to the recipient(s) from kinug@mcmaster.ca and payment will be issued by the Department of Kinesiology in accordance with the department's pay procedures.

Kinesiology Research Award Supplementary Application

The Department of Kinesiology is committed to inclusive excellence, recognizing that a diverse student body brings a range of perspectives and experiences which enriches our learning community. To enhance accessibility and equality of opportunity for historically underrepresented students (including First Nations, Métis and Inuit students, racialized students, students with a disability, female students in STEM disciplines, 2SLGBTQI+ students, students from lower income households, and students who are first in their family to attend a post-secondary institution), we invite you to share any experiences and contributions that you would like considered as part of the supplemental application process. This is an optional exercise. Applicants who choose to complete this supplemental section are asked to self-identify as a member of an underrepresented population. Applicants who choose not to complete this supplemental section will not be disadvantaged in the application process.

Please provide us with your history and experience in research so far, and how research work experience will compliment your studies in the Honours Kinesiology Program.

What does equitable, diverse, and inclusive research mean to you?
